GRIFIN TO CLOSE OUT HIS STORE

An old tale is recalled as the key to the easy content announced in another part of this paper. M. L. Staley, Minneapolis merchandising expert, has drawn on Apsley's tale to illustrate a very successful move. In many parts of the country where stores have advertised a sale the results were slow because the merchant did not do what he advertised he would do. Here in Canal Point Mr. O. P. Griffin in calling on his friend decided to sell out his entire store, stock and barrel, a sale that will reach out and draw hundreds and hundreds of people to Canal Point that have never been here before. "It reminds me," said Mr. Staley yesterday, "that when a merchant advertises a sale and does not keep faith with the people, that he pays the same penalty as the boy watching the sheep in the field who thought it great sport to call 'Wolf! Wolf!' when the people came running to see the wolf. When the real wolf came and began to eat up the sheep and the boy too, he shouted 'Wolf! Wolf! Wolf!' in vain because they would not believe him."

Staley's Wolf Used
"I believe we will use this animal as a trade mark and give the person who will write the best essay about the sale and name this animal, where he is from, in fact just what species he is I will give $25 in merchandise to be purchased out of my store," said Mr. Griffin in planning this campaign. "I am going to cut loose with a closing sale that will stampede the buying public, that will arouse more buying enthusiasm than has been witnessed since the war."

The opening day, Friday, April 25, will be started off with a flying aerial circus. We are fattening up a dozen roosters, chickens and fryers and are preparing 100 free packages that will be thrown off the roof one minute, he face the doors open Friday morning at the opening hour.

Mystery Boxes
"During the sale there will be an unique sale of mystery boxes that will be wrapped and packed and sold for $1. These boxes contain valuable choice merchandise that has been selected from all over the store and will prove an immense haul of shillings as to get a $9 rod and reel, a down pair of silk hose, a thrill that comes once in a life time especially as it only costs $1."

Dress Goods & A Yard
"Among the various specials and bargains at this closing out sale, will be over a hundred yards of wonderful dress goods that will be placed on sale at 5 cents per yard. There is not a piece in this lot that has cost as few as 50 cents a yard and has been retailed for over $1 a yard. Free action will be held every day as with every purchase of $1 you will receive a $1 auction slip that will be accepted at one free auction sale every day at 3 o'clock. For fifteen minutes only we will put up for auction merchandise selected at random from all over the store and will accept over the auction money that you receive at this sale instead of cash. Real money won't do—you must use the auction money or give you with every dollar's merchandise."

Single Sell Cheap
"Twenty pounds of sugar for a dollar is another special feature for the benefit of all the parties who will purchase $5 worth or more at this sale. On top of all this the best letter telling why this event is the most unique ever staged in this part of the country will receive the $25 award. Turn your letters in at the store of O. P. Griffin the first day of the sale, Friday, April 25."

GO TO COURT HOUSE TO REGISTER NOW

Payment of Poll Tax Is Present
Duty of Persons Who Would Vote in June Primary

The time has expired for registration in the several registration districts of the county and the books are now being returned to County Registrar J. L. Grier at West Palm Beach.

All who have not registered may still do so up to and including May 1 but they will have to do this by calling at the office of Mr. Grier at the court house.

After May 1 no one can register unless after the primary on June 8, the books again open for registration on June 9 at the office of the county registrar.

Poll taxes may be paid up to and including May 15. Poll taxes for 1924 and 1925 must be paid if a voter desires to take part in the June primary.

The time between May 1 and June 9 will be used by Mr. Grier in getting the several sets of books up to date and checked up.

The poll tax must be paid and registration made if the franchise is to be used June 8. One or the other will not do but both must be done and it is important that each voter keeps this in mind.

CANAL POINT

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clark and son of Avon Park visited Mr. and Mrs. W. Adams the latter part of last week. The son left this week for New York. If any of their friends want to write to Captain Greg Bryant or Frank Colson, their address is now Clewiston, instead of Chosen as they thought it would be.

Two speed boats and a seaskiff, manned by separate crews, locked through at Canal Point Sunday. A seaskiff came in from the lake Monday and went down the canal.

L. L. Knight entertained several callers from the north and the east coast this week, people who came out to see the country. One man told him that a wagon load of carrots was given away on the streets of Miami to advertise unacknowledged and that this thing led him to come out to the Everglades. J. D. Hummick, who has been supervisor on the Okeechobee-Canal Point railway, has been transferred to Titusville. Mrs. Hummick has gone to Bonnellville, Miss., for a visit until Mr. Hummick gets straightened away in new quarters on the east coast.

A professor from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., stopped in Canal Point the first of the week. He had been to Cape Sable and other places in the south end of the state, where he took pictures of birds and animals with a moving picture machine. He got some views here.

George Newell Moran of West Palm Beach, a member of the Alfred H. Waite organization, was a caller at Canal Point Saturday. He is the director of the research survey that is being made by the organization to learn the good and weak points of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McClelland visited Frostproof the first of the week, that town being his former home and where they have relatives. They went on their first visit to Frostproof in four years and Mr. McClelland says he was surprised as well as delighted at the immense improvement that has been made in the ridge section.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Adams went to Miami the first of the week, to take Miss Mattie McKeehan of Avon Park, who had visited here and was to visit in Miami. Mrs. McKeehan and Miss Conway accompanied them. They returned Monday afternoon through the heavy rain on the east coast and Okeechobee road.

L. C. Gibson, an old friend of the editor of The Everglades News, was out from West Palm Beach Saturday with a party of friends who had heard the story of oil in the Everglades. He paused here when they went on to Okeechobee. On their return from Okeechobee they stopped and exhibited a sample of the oil that was said to have been obtained from the hole.

With a speed boat to be used as a tug, a crew came to Canal Point Sunday and raised a barge that was stranded on the lake front. When the barge had been pumped out they locked through en route down the canal to West Palm Beach. One of the men said they were employees of an electric power company and were to use the barge on their work while setting poles and stringing wire for a line to run north and south in the flatwoods.

M. E. CHURCH NEWS

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Jesse Dismick and her mother left Monday for Detroit en route to St. Petersburg. Rev. Thomas is not expecting to serve this charge next year, as a petition was sent to Bishop Nicholson, from South Bay with 76 names, asking that Rev. Thomas be sent to South Bay and that they would take care of the minister's salary, so the mission board may no longer pay any part of the salary.

E. Erickson, who owns a small farm in section 15, has bought a 15-room house on the site of old Commerceville and is having it torn down and the lumber moved to his place, where he will use the salvaged material in the erection of a dwelling for his own occupancy. He has a plan for his place but the new one will be better and better. His land is east of Polican Lake and south of Canal Point. Mr. Erickson has lived on the place for four years, except when he worked as a carpenter in Miami or on East Beach.

The first of Miss Ida Tarbell's articles about Florida is in the May number of McCall's Magazine. As the magazine is a monthly it may be sixty days before the article is printed that has notes of her trip to the Everglades.

At Least Does Something

The workman who turns out a good job is an improvement on the one who does nothing but stand around and make remarks.

MOVIE PICTURE MAN

W. H. ("Bill") Martin of West Palm Beach, head of a moving picture company, visited the eastern shore of the lake twice in the past week, accompanied by a friend on the latter trip. With Captain Jack Barrett as guide they fished in the canals and made good catches.

LETTERS

Enslin, Fla. April 10, 1926.

My dear Sharp: Am learning faster some banana fruit to be had in a number of sections, that come through the winter cold, out in the open without any applied protection means.

This being the case following close after the kind of a season experienced is worth special consideration and speaks volumes for those sections of the state where the fruit is to be found. Those having their own as to their sections welfare at heart should come to the convention at Enslin April 21 and bring one such lunch of fruit for demonstration.

Does not matter if only partly grown, it will have encountered the cold at any rate and will tell the story wanted. All sections and persons coming or sending a bunch of fruit from their own section will be credited for it in the early published reports of convention proceedings, which will be broadcasted. Kind regards.

W. J. KIERWOOD.

NOTICE

I have this day sold my interest in the Lakeview Lunch to Charles DeLoach, and will not hereafter be responsible for any bills contracted on account of the said business.

A BAPTIST CHALLENGE

Current reports, said by reliable authority to have originated among the membership of the Palatka Baptist church, to the effect that the Canal Point Baptist church is misrepresenting the Southern Baptist Convention and her system of mission work, caused the Canal Point Baptist to issue to the Palatka Baptist church the following challenge, to-wit:

The Canal Point Baptist church did in regular conference assembled on the 9th day of January, A. D. 1926, pass the following resolutions, to-wit:

First, Be it resolved, that we, the Canal Point Baptist church, reaffirm our faith in the faith that the Independent Missionary Baptist church is the Church of Christ, set up and established during his personal ministry here on earth, and

Second, Be it resolved, that we reaffirm our reputation of the Southern Baptist Convention, her state conventions, auxiliaries and societies as being unscriptural and unbaptistic and

Third, Be it resolved, that we challenge the Palatka Missionary Baptist church, a church affiliating and co-operating with the above named conventions and societies, for a discussion of the differences between Baptist cooperating with and endorsing conventions and Independent Baptists and submit to her the following proposition: Resolved, that mission methods as practiced by the Southern Baptist Convention, her state conventions, auxiliaries and societies, are unscriptural and unbaptistic.

The foregoing challenge was presented to the clerk of the Palatka Baptist church by Brethren Smith and Dowling of the Canal Point Baptist church. The clerk upon receiving the challenge stated that he would present it to the church, but said that he thought the challenge a very uncharitable act. The reader is asked to go back and read the challenge again. It states that the Southern Baptist Convention, her state conventions, auxiliaries and societies are unscriptural. The Canal Point Baptist church affirms the proposition and asks the Palatka Baptist church to deny the proposition and meet us in a discussion of the matter. Is there anything uncharitable about that? If so, we fail to see it.

This is a free country and Baptists are said to be a free people, therefore, we purpose to stand out open and above board on the true principles of God's word. If we are wrong, then why don't the Palatka church meet us in honorable discussion and show wherein we are wrong.

The challenge was presented to the clerk of the church several weeks ago, and so far, as far as we know, has been treated with silent contempt. We only want a frank and friendly discussion of the proposition in question, because there are people who are halting between two opinions. They want the truth and we purpose to give it to them, but we wanted them to have opportunity to hear both sides of the proposition.

We hope that the Palatka Baptist church will yet accept our challenge and discuss this great question in a free and frank way.

Canal Point Baptist Church.

J. J. BOLLINGER DEAD

J. J. Bollinger was found dead in bed Sunday in a house at Bacon Point where he had been occupying for several weeks. The body was taken to West Palm Beach that evening. Death was due to apoplexy. He was a brother of S. W. Bollinger and had relatives in Georgia and Pennsylvania.

The state road department has started a series of work in Martin county, including by eminent dam, right of way for state road No. 4 on a new route.

An increase of 443 voters in Martin county, bringing the total number registered to 12,127, is shown by the registration figures compiled by W. H. Earle, supervisor of registration.

Half a million dollars has been received by the city bonds that were voted a short time ago. The money has been put on deposit in the Stuart bank and will be drawn upon as the work provided for in the bond issue is accomplished.

Albert L. Boyer of Marion, Ind., is to be the principal of the Stuart high school in the new term. He was in Stuart recently conferring with county Superintendent J. T. McNeill and members of the board of public instruction.

MOORE HAVEN

(Compiled from The Everglades)

J. H. Holcomb, a surveyor well known in the Lake region, now lives at Venus.

The A. C. L. railroad and the city will cooperate in widening First street between Avenue I and the depot.

The official record of a section of the records of the week required for the establishment of the fish hatchery.

The foundation for a new building on the Kline & Stone building on Avenue I. It is to contain the moving picture and hardware store.

Moore Haven is on the direct line of the air mail between Fort Myers and Miami, and the Lander's Club will have the planes stop at Moore Haven.

Shaw & Williams had all acres on Charlotte road, planned to cultivate fifty car loads were shipped and Mr. Shaw figures an average price of $25.00 per car load, of $5,000 returns from the average.

At the request of Horace C. Alford of Miami, president of Alford City, the county commissioners have appointed viewers for a proposed road from Lakeland via his home to Ft. Bragg.

Further action as to the declaring of a route will be taken when the viewers report.

OKEELANTA

OKEELANTA, April 12—Dr. James Russell Price and wife, at one time residents here, but now members of the Okeelanta colony near Fort Myers, stopped over for a few hours on their way to their land on the Miami canal.

K. C. Geer underwent a third amputation, this time above the knee, at the Good Samaritan hospital at Palm Beach.

He is making a remarkable speedy recovery for a man of his age (70 years), so the doctors claim.

The report of Mr. Geer's condition is set in, will witness his discharge from the surgeon's care.

Last Sunday Ben Anjima took his aunt, Mrs. Stitzel and his two sisters to Palm Beach for an enjoyable outing, returning the evening accompanied by his father. The car ride from Belle Glade to Okeelanta is the special enjoyment of the whole trip.

The very scene of pleasurable indulgence, deserving to be recommended to the county commissioners as a daily morning constitutional.

The fun-loving bull that came so near wrecking Dave Hestington's automobile, was taken to Belle Glade on a truck a few days after the attack. The boys who did the moving took no chances.

They covered up tied down, hobbled and otherwise secured the poor beast contrary to all the rules of the humane society. The bull, however, kept on and its indignities good naturedly.

The valuable animal is of a good milk strain and deboning and a ring in the nose, would be perfectly safe to handle.

Baker's share of the crop on the Fray ranch has passed into the hands of George Graham. The former with several Arizona where the big and dry climate is more conducive to his health. The wife and child will follow later by the express.

to return to time for next winter's cropping operations.

A. C. Hamilton and wife from Pittsfield, Ill., were among our recent visitors looking up conditions and location of their land with the assistance of Sam Cooper, our local real estate agent.

Chas. I. Baker of St. Louis, Mo., whom Kiedel's son brought to town Sunday morning was taken by Lake Harney during the day by Cooper. He also has land investments on south shore.

FOR MYERS ELECTION

Returns from a city election held at Fort Myers last week seemed to show A. B. Cutler elected by a majority of two votes. R. O. Kiedel, the nearest opponent, declares he will contest the election.

Farm Talk

Howard Sharp

TO INVESTIGATE FLORIDA
AGRICULTURAL INDUSTRIES

GAINESVILLE, April 9.—The experiment station of the University of Florida will take up immediately an intensive study of a number of agricultural industries in the state with a view to determining the best and most profitable practices employed by the farmers, as well as the fundamental business principles which should be applied to economical and successful production of the various crops.

This line of work is made possible by the recent establishment, by the board of control, of a department of agricultural economics in the experiment station, according to an announcement just made by Wilmon Newell, director of the station.

The board of control has selected for chief of this department Dr. C. Y. Noble, at present assistant professor of farm management in Cornell University. He will assume his duties at the experiment station at Gainesville on May 1.

The experiment station has already undertaken some studies in the field of economics, including recently a farm study of the Irish potato district in St. Johns and Putnam counties to secure dependable data on operations, etc., involved in potato production. This information will not only be used in giving instruction to agricultural students at the University of Florida but will also be made available in bulletin form by the experiment station and will be made available to the public generally.

KORSHAN UNIT BUYS
NEHLING COLLECTION

The Korshan Unit at Estero has purchased Dr. Henry Nehling's entire collection of wonderful caladiums, 1500 specimens, mostly 2000 varieties of this beautiful plant, which, under scientific cultivation, produces plants having beautiful and distinct colors.

Dr. Nehling, botanist and ornithologist, was born in Sheboygan county, Wisconsin, May 9, 1853, being now 72 years of age.

Dr. Nehling started out in life as a teacher and through the influence of a friend of which was the writing of books and magazine articles on plants and birds, having taught school in Wisconsin, Michigan and Texas.

In 1880 he went to Gotha, Fla., where he had in 1884 purchased a tract of garden land near Okeechobee, and having seen it. He returned to Milwaukee, Wis., where he was made inspector of prisons. In 1890 he returned to become curator of the Milwaukee public museum. For a number of years he has been a trustee of the American Eagle of Estero, Fla., giving a classical tone to that periodical.

His articles on plants give the minute description and names of all he cultured and his wonderful production of over 2000 varieties of his caladiums, which has given him such fame as to be named the "Barbican of caladiums."

In 1891 he returned to his native land in Milwaukee and shipped his botanical collection to Gotha, Fla., and he has since that time been in the state, the collection proved to be a great boon for Florida nurseries and lovers of plants here.

He had worked up such a splendid reputation among the leading nurseries to such an extent that he recently offered him $30,000 to subsidize his caladium industry alone, which he flatly refused.

His caladium plants being of such wonderful variations in color and bloom, that some have become world famous, and bring the highest market prices; namely, 50 cents to $2 for each plant, while others competing bring only 10 cents to 15 cents each.

His collection of bamboos at Gotha numbered the greatest variety that has ever been collected by any one nursery. Many of these were lost through the lake on his garden having overflowed twice while he was there.

His disasters at Gotha in the rearing of a distinctive garden made him look elsewhere for a spot where he could stay the remainder of his life that would become permanent and where the tropical plants would not drown or freeze out.

His great interest especially in rubber, caladiums and amaranths plants caused him to come in 1917 to Naples-on-the-Gulf.

HASTINGS POTATOES

The first solid carload of genuine Spaulding Rose 4 potatoes were loaded and shipped from Hastings Wednesday of last week. The potatoes were grown by R. E. Gray, of Federal Point, and sold by G. W. Waller at $15 per barrel for No. 1s, $13 for No. 2s, and $8 for No. 3s. It is the first carload of potatoes shipped from a farm in Washington purchased the car.

Mr. Gray started digging Tuesday and by Wednesday night the car in the Hastings yards was loaded and ready to roll. Wednesday a number of growers in the Federal Point section started digging but were halted by rains that afternoon.

The first carload of potatoes this season is sent out almost a month later than a year ago, but brought $3 per barrel more than the first car shipped a year ago. The yield is said to be about the average of the early crop. The potatoes of Mr. Gray averaged 110 days old and remained in the ground almost three weeks longer than the regulation ninety days. However, the vines were still very green and some growers are of the opinion that owing to the extremely good weather would stand up some time.

Up to Saturday of last week the crops over the entire section were said to be in splendid condition, and it is thought there has been no air of uneasiness about the growers because of the late condition of the crop. Some growers state that they do not believe that the vines have done well enough to any great extent, while others believe that the yield will be cut considerably as a result.

CELERY FROM HASTINGS

HASTINGS, Fla., April 10.—Three carloads of celery were shipped from Hastings yesterday. The celery was raised by J. E. Pickett, brother, A. C. and Dr. B. L. Pickett, who are of Hastings. The first carload of celery shipped from Hastings was a half carload of 4000 bunches of 28 car a week ago, and all of the celery was sold at a profit. The price paid for the celery was $1.00 per bunch, and it was sold at $1.25 per bunch. The celery was raised on a 5000 acre tract, and it was sold at a profit of $1.00 per bunch.

Despite an unusual winter, celery has done exceedingly well in this county and no doubt another year will find a greatly increased acreage in this county. This year's crop was nearly an experiment by a number of inexperienced celery growers, and they learned much that will be of benefit to them in growing future crops.

A number of carloads have been shipped from East Palatka this week and in all, quite a number of carloads have been shipped from the east coast section. Sanford is the greatest celery growing section of the state as is Hastings the greatest early potato growing section.

Tomato Estimate

A Department of Agriculture report from Washington under date of April 9 says:

"Compared with beans and cucumbers first injury to tomatoes has been slight, most sections escaping any damage. Manatee county has around 3500 acres in excellent condition. The crop went out late but has shown rapid growth and carlot movement is now expected by April 25 with heavier movement after May 1 and the peak about the week beginning May 18. The Lake Okeechobee movement will probably be lighter than last year and will begin April 15 with cars after May 1. Plant City and Coleman tomatoes will be moving by May 15. Marion county plantings are unusually light this year but are in good condition. Transplanting is still under way with shipments expected about May 15."

JUST AS GOOD? BETTER!

A group of Chicago capitalists has paid a million and a half dollars for a tract of ocean front land located near the site of the bridge that is to cross Lake Worth from South Palm Beach. The tract was bought as a site for a million dollar apartment house.

This is one of the several evidences that there has been to "collapse of a boom" so far as well located property is concerned.

There is need of literally dozens of large apartment houses on water front property in Palm Beach county, and there are sites on Lake Okeechobee that are just as good as that which has been bought in Palm Beach.

"Gold Mine of Europe"

Transylvania, in the midst of the Carpathian mountains, was once called the gold mine of Europe, as that continent received most of its precious metal from that source. The production has greatly diminished.

"Cep" for the regular weekly advertisement of FLORIDA MUCK FARMS and LAKE HARBOR townsite having failed to arrive, the Company has wired me to write the advertisement. I am perfectly willing to do this, because I know the property and the locality and I know something of the owners and the people in the selling organization, and do not have to take a lot of time to figure out what to say and to keep from saying. Under the instructions in the telegram I feel free to say anything I want to say. Long acquaintance with the chief man in the selling organization makes me know that they don't want anything said about the property that is not so.

In the first place, in advertising and selling FLORIDA MUCK FARMS, located along Miami canal, and LAKE HARBOR, on the canal at the lake, I would put the emphasis on the property itself and not on the wealth and high position and great executive ability of the men in the owning company and the selling organization. Participation of men of their high standing and good business judgment in the enterprise is, of course, an endorsement of it and an assurance that promises made on behalf of the property will be kept, but THE PROPERTY IS BETTER AND GREATER THAN THEY ARE—better than any generation of men.

The world must be fed. The people of the United States must be fed. They eat what is grown, not what is manufactured or quarried. To grow stuff there must be land and sun and water. For the growing to be profitable the land must be fertile, the sunshine must be ample and the water must be controlled. These requirements are met in the situation and condition of the land in the area known as FLORIDA MUCK FARMS on the south shore of Lake Okeechobee. It's a mortal cinch that the men who bought that large tract for development and laid out LAKE HARBOR townsite investigated it most thoroughly before they paid their money; they probably know more about the capability of the land than do people who live right there. Soil experts and chemists and practical farmers examined the soil and found out exactly what it is and what can be done with it. This was no great job, for there are areas of muck soil in many places in the world that have been farmed for hundreds of years, and the information obtained elsewhere was supplemented by information of what the pioneer settlers did. The handicap to the pioneer settlers was lack of facilities to control the excess water. The engineers found that the water can be controlled—the farmers knew that, but they were not in position to provide the ditches and dikes and pumps. The Company is doing that. The sunshine is a constant factor. And there you are: the fertile land, the sunshine and the water control for the growing of the things that human being can't do without. Ownership of land like that is better than cash in the bank or government bonds.

Don't you see this? A railroad is to be built from Miami canal to Miami. Miami is the greatest winter resort in the world. Hundreds of thousands of people go to Miami every winter, and being there they start looking around. They will ride that railroad from Miami to LAKE HARBOR and get off of the train and look around. They will see the beautiful lake, the luxuriant vegetation, notice that the weather is better than at Miami, that there are no mosquitos, and they will buy. Possessed of a farm tract or a lot they will build on it and improve it—never doubt that.

Truckers from New Jersey, New York, Ohio—all of the northern states—will ride through LAKE HARBOR and see the most wonderful sight they ever saw—green fields in mid-winter. They know what vegetables sell for in winter, and although their tickets may read to Miami, they will make a side trip and come back up to the lake, particularly after comparing east coast sand with what they saw in the Everglades.

There are going to be plenty of buyers for tracts in FLORIDA MUCK FARMS and LAKE HARBOR townsite. The question right now is this: Are you, the reader of this, going to buy now or are you going to wait and miss an opportunity by letting others get ahead of you?

There is a little blank in the corner here. Tear it off, mail it to the address given and read the booklet that will be sent you. What you read in that booklet is true—I vouch for it.
